Business Group Approves Articles Of Incorporation

Thanks Extended to Mayor by Ulster-Albany Ave. Association at Meeting

Articles of incorporation were approved last night by the Ulster-Albany Avenue Businessmen's Association at its third regular meeting at Ulster House No. 5.

The membership gave Mayor Frederick H. Stang, who assisted in the preparation of the charter, a rising vote of thanks.

Acceptance of the new charter marks the culmination of months of planning by leading businessmen of the area embracing Albany avenue extension and 9W in the vicinity of Kingston.

Purpose of the association, as set forth in the charter, is to "foster trade and commerce, to reform abuses relative thereto, to procure uniformity and certainty in the customs and usages of trade, to settle equitably and justly differences between its members and to promote and coordinate business activities and promotions."

Has 60 Members
David Van Wagenen, chairman of the membership committee, reported that the association now has approximately 60 members and is rapidly growing. A new membership drive is under way.

It was also announced that a contributing membership arrangement had been set up for those who would like to support the organization without taking an active role. This type of membership would afford no vote and dues would be half that of regular membership.

Little Hope Held For Chessman Life

Condemned Rapist to Get Review of One Point in His Trial

San Quentin, Calif., May 12 (P)—Faint hope for the life of Caryl Chessman, condemned reputed rapist, author and actor, scheduled to die Friday, glimmered today. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight agreed to look over the record of his Los Angeles conviction of kidnapping with bodily harm.

Knight earlier dismissed a plea for clemency for Chessman filed by a criminologist and a noted author. He said Chessman's crimes—kidnapping, attempted rape, sex perversion and robbery—were "horrible and there were 17 of them." And he said one of Chessman's female victims is still in a mental hospital as a result of his attack.

California law makes no exception of "people who write books," Knight added. He referred to Chessman's "Cell 2455, Death Row," best-seller.

Will Review Point
However, after a half-hour closed door conference late yesterday with Chessman's attorney, Berwyn Rice, Knight said he will review one point of the 32-year-old convict's 1948 conviction—whether the court reporter's notes were sufficient.

The original court reporter died during the trial. Rice contends his replacement was not fully able to

Indictment Tells About Profits on Liquor During Period of Scarcity

New York, May 12 (P)—An indictment involving alleged invasion of $17,400,000 in income taxes—perhaps the largest such case in history—has been handed up against nine men by a Federal Grand Jury.

The indictment cites profits from liquor deals during World War 2 and postwar years when whiskey was scarce.

Among those indicted yesterday is Hyman Harvey Klein, who told a House of Representatives committee in 1952 that he made whiskey profits of five million dollars on an investment of $1,000 cash. Klein was listed then as a Baltimore resident.

He is charged in the indictment with failing to pay $4,400,000 in income taxes for 1944 through 1946.

Others Indicted
Others indicted were Klein's brother, Isidore J. Klein; Albert McLennan and George Norgan, all of Vancouver, B. C.; Ellis Rosenberg, Washington, D. C.; attorney Maurice Haas, attorney and certified public accountant, of Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Morris O. Alprin, attorney, of Brooklyn, New York; Irving A. Koerner, of Great Neck, N. Y.; and Albert Roer, of Brooklyn.

The indictment charged Isidore Klein, McLennan and Norgan with conspiracy to evade payment of 13 million dollars in income taxes for 1944 through 1946.

The grand jury charged all nine defendants with conspiracy to evade payment of income taxes by forming foreign corporations in Cuba and Panama to receive profits from sale of Harwood's whiskey in the United States.

Made Possible by Order
U. S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard said the profits were made possible by an Order of Price Administrator in 1944 which permitted sale of whiskey in the United States "at a price greatly in excess of that which should have been granted by the OPA under the then existing regulations."

Profits made in the whiskey transactions, the prosecutor told newsmen, "were charged to the two Kleins, Norgan and McLennan as individuals, rather than to the foreign corporations." He declined to give details of the operations of the alleged tax evasion scheme. Neither would he tell what positions—if any—the defendants held in any of the companies.

After discovery of the alleged scheme, Lumbard said, the defendants made "concerted efforts to conceal the nature and source of the income they had earned during the prior years."

"Several of the defendants," Lumbard added, "concealed checks in large amounts for six years before cashing them, in an effort to defeat the attempts of the government to collect the tax due on—my God, I wish we had."

Viet Nam Is Against Any Partitions

French Official Reports Terms Are Backed by Non-Red Delegates at Conference

Geneva, May 12 (P)—The French-backed government of Viet Nam declared today under no circumstances must any Indo-China armistice settlement include the partition of Viet Nam territory.

The Viet Nam terms were laid before the nine-member Indochina conference by Foreign Minister Nguyen Quoc Dinh. They were said by a French spokesman to have the backing of all the non-Communist delegations participating in the talks.

Covered Two Aspects

The plan covered both military and political aspects of the armistice. It called for a political settlement based upon free elections under United Nations control.

The main conditions for ending the fighting were: Any agreement must include sufficient guarantees to insure a "real and durable peace and prevent any new aggression."

The agreement must not lead to a direct or indirect, definitive or provisional, partition of national territory.

It must foresee international control of the execution of the cease-fire conditions.

Is on Danger List

Hanoi, Indochina, May 12 (P)—France put Indochina's vital Red river delta on top of the danger list today. A top French commander warned that his forces may need foreign help if the Communist-led Vietminh unleash all their power against the defense perimeter.

Gen. Pierre Louis Bodet, chief aide to the French commander in chief in Indochina, Gen. Henri Navarre, told a news conference last night.

"The situation in the delta is serious but far from hopeless or desperate. We may need help from outside if the Vietminh attack the delta with all their means and with their forces from Dien Bien Phu."

Bodet specified no country in his mention of additional foreign aid. The United States reportedly refused a French request for air force help to Dien Bien Phu after Britain's government said it could not consider joint military intervention until the outcome of the Geneva conference was known.

Seeking to exploit their victory last week at Dien Bien Phu, the rebels throughout the rich rice lands stepped up their attacks on thinly manned French and Vietnamese defense posts.

Spraying May Start

Providing weather conditions are favorable, airplanes will begin their flights at daylight Thursday morning in the project to spray all of Kingston's trees. The flights were originally scheduled to start Monday but were called off due to inclement weather conditions. The airplane spray is designed to protect the city's trees against beetles as well as other insects. The spray, it is pointed out, will be good for the rest of the season.

Will Sign Bill

Washington, May 12 (P)—President Eisenhower told his news conference today he will sign the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill tomorrow. The bill authorizes United States participation with Canada in building a waterway to carry ocean shipping from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

Washington, May 12 (P)—The cash position of the treasury May 7, 1954: Balance $3,812,296,340.14. Deposits: Fiscal year July 1 $36,725,848,774.58. Withdrawals: Fiscal year $60,894,839,581.66. Total debt $271,045,432,593.21. Gold assets $21,969,680,297.74. X-1 includes $554,178,483.33 debt not subject to statutory limit.

Deyo Pays Fine Of $75 on Charge Of Drunk Driving

Chester Deyo, Jr., 47, of Yarmouth street, was arrested by Officer Hyndrick Armstrong early today on a charge that he was driving on Broadway while intoxicated.

Arraigned today before City Judge Raymond J. Mino, Deyo pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 or spend 75 days in jail and his license was revoked. The fine was not immediately paid, but he was expected to pay it later today.

A police report at 1:50 a. m. recorded the arrest by Officer Armstrong and said Deyo was picked up by Officer Everett Emmick and George Dohnken in a patrol car.

Information on the arrest said Deyo had been driving on the left side of the street without lights and the car was zig zagging.

Mayor Plans City Reception for Crew Arriving in June

Stang Will Ask Service Clubs to Participate in Welcome for Britons

Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today that he planned to ask for a committee from each of the city's service clubs to assist in the reception next month for a group of British sailors who plan to sail from Kingston, England to this city, in "a power driven vessel," once used as a lifeboat.

The mayor indicated a complete reception program will not be prepared until more information on the journey is received, the time of arrival next month is more definitely established.

A letter from the mayor of the British community dated May 4 said the voyage is to be made "to obtain for Great Britain a record for the crossing east to west and the double crossing of the North Atlantic by a small power-driven craft."

June 17 to 19 has been set as the tentative time of arrival of the craft and crew in this city. It is scheduled to sail from Kingston, England May 22.

Letter From England

Here is the letter in full as received by Mayor Stang Monday: Royal Borough of Kingston-upon-Thames Mayor's Parlour Guildhall Kingston-upon-Thames 4th May, 1954

Dear Mr. Mayor: "I am sure you will be interested to know that on Saturday the 22nd May a power-driven motor vessel is leaving this Royal Borough bound for your city."

"The vessel is a former life-boat and was at the time of her launch in 1929 the largest craft of her kind in the world. She has a wonderful record of service at Padstow in the County of Cornwall as the 'Princess Mary' being launched to rescue some 63 times and saved a total of 48 lives."

"The present voyage is being undertaken by a crew of ex-Royal Navy personnel and is an endeavor to obtain for Great Britain a record for crossing from east to west and the double crossing of the North Atlantic by a small power-driven craft."

"I have had the pleasure of inspecting the vessel and the conversion has been carried out in a truly remarkable manner."

"The commanding officer is Captain C. Harcourt-Smith who had a distinguished service in the Royal Navy from 1916 to 1938 and then again during the late war. He will be accompanied by Commander T. E. Hight, who will, in fact, be making his 15th crossing of the North Atlantic. He was a fleet officer to Admiral of the Fleet Lord Tovey during the late war and also served in the Pacific. Captain Harcourt-Smith will also be accompanied by Mr. E. Skelton, ex-Royal Navy, who is an officer of the famous Steadfast Sea Cadet Corps in this borough, and is a specialist in wireless telegraphy."

"I have taken the liberty of giving Captain Harcourt-Smith a letter of greeting from the Royal Borough to your city, and trust that this further exchange of visits between our two municipalities may serve to strengthen the ties of friendship between your country and Great Britain."

"The vessel has been re-named 'The Aries.' As I have said, it is sailing from Kingston on the 22nd of May and it is hoped that my letter will be handed to you some time between the 17th and 19th of June."

"With kind regards Mr. Mayor, I am sincerely yours, GEOFFREY R. LINES."

The letter contained the name of former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk instead of Mayor Stang. The former mayor had received communications from the British Community during observance of this city's 300th anniversary in 1952.

Carlin Re-elected

Newark, N. J., May 12 (P)—Newark voters re-elected Leo P. Carlin, 45-year-old former AFL Union leader, as mayor yesterday.

McCarthy Counsel Vehement, Upset Because He Was Barred, Aide Says

Washington, May 12 (P)—Army Counsel John G. Adams swore today Roy M. Cohn exploded, "this is war" when Cohn was barred from a secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., last Oct. 20.

Telling of the incident from the witness chair of the McCarthy-Army hearings, Adams said:

"He became extremely upset. He said 'this is war,' and 'we'll really investigate this place now."

"He said 'they let Communists into this place but they keep me out—I've got security clearance to go any place in the world.'"

Adams was supporting the Army's contention that Cohn, 27-year-old counsel to Sen. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee, made threats against the Army.

The Army charges also that Cohn used the subcommittee's power in seeking preferential Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, wealthy New Yorker who was an unpaid consultant to the subcommittee before he was drafted last fall.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the inquiry into the row, asked whether Cohn had said at Ft. Monmouth that he had access to FBI files.

"He didn't say that to me but he said that to other persons," Adams replied.

Under Instructions

Leading up to his story of the Monmouth incident, Adams testified: 1. He was under instructions from Secretary Stevens to cooperate "completely and wholeheartedly" with the McCarthy subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversion at Ft. Monmouth. The McCarthy camp contends Secretary Stevens gave Adams the as-

Lasser Donated Eyes to Science

New York, May 12 (P)—Jacob Kay Lasser, writer of popular books on how to make out income tax returns, who died yesterday, left his eyes to the Eye-Bank for sight restoration.

"It is a magnificent thought that through this very fine generosity the spirit of Mr. Lasser will march on in the sight of others," the Eye-Bank announced.

It said the eyes already had been sent to doctors in Houston and Baltimore waiting to perform special corneal grafting operations. Recipients of the eyes were not identified.

Lasser, a native of Newark, N. J., wrote "Your Income Tax," of which more than seven million copies were sold, and other books.

Funeral Services

Funeral services for Mr. Lasser will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home, Madison avenue at 81st street, New York.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Terese Reuben Lasser; his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Lasser of Miami Beach, Fla.; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Ann Gray of New Rochelle; son, Donald Judd Lassar of Norwich, Conn., and a sister, Mrs. Harriet Englander of Newark, N. J.

$92,500 in Fines Imposed On Old ILA for Violations

New York, May 12 (P)—Fines totaling $92,500 have been added to the woes of the old International Longshoremen's Assn., now locked in a life struggle for control of dock workers in the port of New York.

The fines, plus jail sentences for three ILA local officials, stem from a waterfront strike that tied up the port of New York from March 5 to April 2.

They were imposed last night by Federal Judge Harold P. Burke shortly after a jury decided the union had violated a no-strike injunction and was guilty of criminal contempt.

The penalties were far less than those asked by the National Labor Relations Board, which

Eisenhower Is Firm on Indochina

Chief Executive Labels Giving Information to Senator Reprehensible Matter

Washington, May 12 (P)—President Eisenhower today called it reprehensible for any army intelligence officer to have supplied confidential FBI data to Sen. McCarthy without authorization.

The President also told his news conference, in a comment on the international scene, that the free world ought not to write off Indochina.

At the outset of the conference, a reporter told the President that Sen. McCarthy had testified last week that an army intelligence officer supplied him with classified FBI material.

The newsmen went on to say that Atty. Gen. Brownell later said the material should not be made public. Eisenhower then was asked to comment on the "propriety" of the army intelligence officers' delivery of such data to McCarthy without authorization.

Has No Comment

The President recalled that he said at his news conference last week he was thinking of taking a vacation from replies to questions dealing with McCarthy.

He added he was not going to comment on the aspect of the question as it related to McCarthy.

The President then went on to discuss the principle of the situation raised by the reporter's question.

He said that in a case where an individual officer gives away classified information, it is so reprehensible.

Eisenhower said that was especially so in the case of security material which must be kept secret.

The President said that when enlisted men enter the armed forces they take an oath to obey the regulations and their superiors.

Eisenhower then asked whether we are to assume that an enlisted man can adopt one kind of loyalty and an officer another kind.

Calling It Ridiculous

Answering his own question, the President called that perfectly ridiculous.

He added that when ever we get to that kind of a situation in the armed services, we had better disband them.

Later in the news conference, the President said in reply to another question he did not know whether any investigation was being made to try to locate the intelligence officer who McCarthy said provided him with the FBI data. The army has said it is conducting such an investigation.

The FBI data dealt with an investigation for possible subversives at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. McCarthy has contended the army was lax in prosecuting its own probe there and produced a "letter" in the army-McCarthy hearings, based on an FBI inquiry at Ft. Monmouth. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover sent word he did not write such a letter as McCarthy first described, but that the document McCarthy produced contained some of the identical language in a confidential FBI memorandum of the same date, sent to the army's intelligence chief. Hoover said the attorney general should pass on whether the letter or the memo could be made public; Brownell held that, in the public interest, neither should be.

Refused to Give Name

McCarthy refused to name the officer he said gave him the document and said he never would disclose the name of anyone who gave him information on a confidential basis.

Student Doesn't Know Why He Killed Girl, 4, in Detroit

Detroit, May 12 (P)—An unemotional high school student told police today he fatally beat and slashed a tiny four-year-old girl, but didn't know why he did it.

Marion Jo Zobrovitz was found yesterday by three playmates in a garage behind her home, her body torn and bleeding. She died in a hospital after doctors fought four and a half hours to save her.

Police Lt. Edward Jacques said 15-year-old Terrence De Moss told him he had struck the girl with a two-by-four beam, then slashed her.

Jacques said the boy gave no reason for the attack.

De Moss is a juvenile under Michigan law and cannot be charged with a major crime in criminal court unless probate court waives its jurisdiction.

Mrs. Doris De Moss, his mother, told police that she suspected her son was the murderer, but police arrived before she could call them.

In a formal statement to police, she said that Terry was fascinated by a newspaper account of the crime. She said that he had left for school yesterday morning, and came home about 2:50 p. m.

She told police that he went to the bathroom and then to the kitchen where he tried to clean brown spots off his grey flannel trousers. He told her that a girl had spilled something at school and he had gotten splashed.

Later, she told police, he went to a show with her and his brother.

When they got back home, Mrs. De Moss said, Terry grabbed their newspaper and began to read the story of the fatal attack.

Mrs. De Moss said he told her that he had been at school, but she threatened to call his teacher.

It was then, Mrs. De Moss told police, that he broke down and said:

"I don't know why I did it."

At the time, Mrs. De Moss said, he had already headed to the home. Patrolman Andrew Hunter tipped authorities to the possibility of De Moss being involved in the crime. He said De Moss was known to have dissected animals and that when he heard of the attack on the girl he thought of the youth at once.

Marion Jo was one of four children of Morris and Julie Zobrovitz.

Zobrovitz, a truck driver, hurried home at the telephone message from his wife: "Come on home—Marion's been hurt." He called his daughter Cookie.

"We moved to this address in January," he said, "because the house we were living in had rats. With Cookie and the new baby coming on, we were afraid to stay—my God, I wish we had."

Plans Are Being Formulated For Air Raid Tests June 14, 15

Preliminary plans are already under way by the Ulster-Kingston Defense Office for participation of Ulster county and Kingston in the nation-wide air-raid test which will be held on June 14 and 15.

Col. Allan L. Hanstein, director, reported today.

This is a Federal air-raid test which will extend over the entire nation and is being held by direction of President Eisenhower.

On Monday, June 14, at some time in the morning the first nationwide alert will be sounded and throughout the nation all persons will take shelter, traffic will cease, and the nation will be in a state of "war" for a few moments.

The test is designed to ascertain just how the public will respond in case of a real emergency, to test out Civil Defense personnel and equipment and to give a "dress rehearsal" of an actual raid.

A conference will shortly be held with Mayor Stang, police and fire officials and town Civil Defense directors as well as supervisors to lay plans for the test.

On the morning of Monday, June 14, there will come at some given hour the yellow warning signal. This will alert Civil Defense personnel and shortly after the "red" signal will come. Air-raid warning horns will sound throughout the nation and the public will be required to take shelter, traffic will halt and for a short period the entire country

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 12, 1954

JAMES F. LOUGHRAN

Remembering his work in connection with the erection of a bridge across the Hudson here, the community learned with deep sorrow of the sudden death of James F. Loughran, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority. The sorrow is community-wide because Mr. Loughran's civic-mindedness was of a depth exceeded only by his sincerity.

His efforts to expedite the construction of the Kingston-Rhinebeck Bridge have reached the stage where the first contract has been awarded for the project.

As an outstanding engineer and public-spirited citizen, Mr. Loughran died with a record of unusual lustre. He was widely known throughout the state as an authority on rural roads and his knowledge and experience was sought on rural problems throughout the state.

For 44 years he served as Ulster County Superintendent of Highways. He assumed the duties of that office in 1909 and resigned in 1953.

In 1945 he was appointed a member of the New York State Bridge Authority and in 1949 was named its chairman. Because of his knowledge and experience as a civil engineer, his selection to the Bridge Authority proved to be a very sound one. Since becoming a member of the Bridge Authority, the deceased had taken a profound interest in its affairs.

Mr. Loughran received a kind of success that stands as a model for public servants.

CLOTHING FOR THE KOREANS

The United Nations Committee of the Kingston Lions Club will conduct a house-to-house clothing campaign in this city on Wednesday evening, May 19 for the destitute people of Korea. Cooperating in this merciful effort, the 156th Field Artillery will supply trucks and drivers to pick up the clothing.

Men's, women's and children's clothing of all types are needed to alleviate the suffering of the Korean people. Winters are very cold in Korea and these victims of a terrible war sleep in doorways or in rough shelters built within ruined buildings. The beggar children of South Korea, part of the bitter fruit borne by the war, beg and steal and compete with the scavengers of the night for food or they died.

Spring is clean up and clean out time for most householders. When going through your clothing closets, it will be well to keep in mind the unfortunate people of Korea and remove that article of clothing that you will replace next winter. Members of the Lions Club will call at your door and pick it up.

The clothing campaign for the victims of war in Korea deserves your generous support.

Men really don't have to worry about women keeping up. What the members of the more interesting sex don't see they more than likely will hear.

REDS IN LATIN AMERICA

The Communists are making a substantial effort to better the toe-hold they already have in the Latin American countries. The United States Information Service recently reported that, despite a drop in Communist Party membership in Latin America, the Reds have accelerated their activities there.

The Red activity in South and Central America has taken the form of "popular liberation fronts." They are attempting to increase their infiltration of the labor movement. Trips to Russia are available for potential Communist party leaders as are liberal subsidies for newspaper articles and radio broadcasts on the party line.

We have made determined efforts in many parts of the world to combat Communist propaganda and to deter the progress of communism along any of the many fronts where it operates. We are also taking measures to deal with the menace it presents in Latin America. It is well, however, that we remain aware of how dangerous communism can be to us if it makes any further gains in South or Central America.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

DO OR DON'T

Perhaps the major stumbling block to an effective alliance between the United States and other countries is the confusion as to American policy which too often appears in press interviews rather than in formal documents. This is particularly true in relation to Korea and Indochina with regard to which our officials have spoken excessively but actions concerning which have been implemented cautiously.

In assuming leadership of an alliance or a coalition, a nation must risk greatly. Leadership does involve negotiation and understanding, but there comes a moment of decision when the alternatives are do or don't. At such a moment, those who assume leadership must have the courage of whatever convictions they hold or they will not be followed. This undoubtedly has been John Foster Dulles' difficulty at Geneva where, no matter what the explanation, Molotov assumed leadership and authority.

At the Berlin Conference, it was agreed on February 18 that the Political Conference concerning Korea should be held at Geneva on April 26. This conference was to deal principally with Korea, but actually Korea has become a side issue. These are the words of the resolution:

"Propose that a conference of representatives of the United States, France, the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the Chinese People's Republic, the Republic of Korea, the People's Democratic Republic of Korea, and the other countries the armed forces of which participated in the hostilities in Korea, and which desire to attend, shall meet in Geneva on April 26 for the purpose of reaching a peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

Omitted from the participants are Japan and Formosa, who, while they played no part in the Korean War, are inevitably important in any settlement. Formosa offered to send troops to Korea but was rejected by the United States. Japan is particularly vital because the thrust into Korea was aimed at the eventual conquest of Japan and also because Russia and Japan ever come to blows again, it will be over Korea and Manchuria.

The Korean issue has been more or less sidetracked and their seem to be a few prospects that a "peaceful settlement of the Korean question" will be reached at Geneva. Until a Korean settlement is concluded, no matter how long that takes, there is always danger that war will again break out in Korea.

The Indochina problem was included in the resolution of February 18 but as a secondary matter. This is the wording:

"Agree that the problem of restoring peace in Indochina will also be discussed at the conference, to which representatives of the United States, France, the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the Chinese People's Republic, and other interested states will be invited."

The invitation of the Chinese People's Republic (Red China) was a compromise with Soviet Russia and made the conference possible. Although the following paragraph was added as an escape clause, it fooled no one:

"It is understood that neither the invitation to, nor the holding of, the above mentioned conference shall be deemed to imply diplomatic recognition in any case where it has not already been accorded."

When Chou En-lai came to Geneva he asserted himself, holding the ace-card that if he walked out of the conference, so would Soviet Russia. As a matter of fact, he maneuvered himself into being an inviting power for a negotiation between Vietnam and Vietnam, which means that while Red China is not on the rotating presidency of the main meetings, Chou will probably preside over these subordinate meetings.

This delicate arrangement may mean nothing in the United States; in Asia it will be accepted as an acknowledgment of Red China as a great power with Chou En-lai photographed as a presiding officer. It means "face"—and "face" is very significant among Asians. In the efforts of Red China to conquer or to become allied with other Asiatic states, "face" is not only a symbol of egotism; it is a valuable political weapon.

The subordination of the Korean to the Indochina situation may be a result of the course of events, but it will surely produce new troubles in Korea. The aged patriot, Syngman Rhee, is not interested in diplomatic puzzles; he is concerned with the existence of a free Korea. At his great age and in the circumstances of his country, compromise with Russia is equal to death.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

CANCER OF LUNG INCREASING

The wars caused so many cases of stomach ulcer and stomach cancer that many of us may have the idea that cancer of the stomach is still the commonest kind of cancer. It may therefore surprise some that cancer of the lungs is today responsible for most cases of cancer. Thus we read in Geriatrics, the medical journal devoted to "Research and Clinical Study of the Diseases and Processes of the Aging," some of the results of the most recent studies of Bronchogenic Carcinoma (cancer of the lung) as presented by Drs. Alton Oschner, Paul di Camp, and C. J. Ray of the staff of the Oschner Clinic and Foundation Hospital, New Orleans.

"Bronchogenic cancer is increasing more than any other cancer of the body, which cannot be accounted entirely because men and women live so much longer than ever before although naturally cancer of the lung is primarily a disease of older people."

In a series of 1,112 seen at the clinic, 38 per cent were in their seventies, 30 per cent in their sixties, 19 per cent between 40 and 49, 5 per cent between 30 and 39. In this series, 89 per cent of the patients were men and only 11 per cent were women. There were about an equal number of whites and colored.

These cancer research workers report that it is the complications of lung cancer that cause most of the symptoms. It is only when there is a breakdown of a tumor that the first symptoms usually appear. Because of this fact lung cancer may be treated as pneumonia in the early stages, particularly the pneumonia known as virus pneumonia.

In investigating the cause or causes of lung cancer, X-ray is considered the most valuable method because of the ease with which it is done and because it is in the upper lobe of the lung that cancer is most frequently found. A tumor or growth which is not large enough to obstruct the bronchus completely, permitting air to get beyond the tumor as a result of dilatation of the bronchial tube, yet not permitting air to get out during expiration because of contraction of the bronchus, will cause localized obstruction—emphysema (small air sacs kept dilated by air in the lungs). This condition indicates a growth (cancer).

Positive diagnosis of cancer of the lung can be made only by demonstrating cancer cells in the material obtained from the bronchus. "At the time of exploring for cancer, a biopsy (cutting out a small piece of tissue and examining under the microscope) or a section of the lung (removing a lobe) can be done and frozen immediately, and then proper treatment can be given thereafter."

Unfortunately, positive diagnosis of cancer of the lung can be made in only 80 per cent of cases before operation.

"ASIA FOR THE ASIANS!"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Grogginess from two weeks of daily attendance at the Senate's Army-McCarthy investigation, Joe Doakes staggered into a restaurant on Capitol Hill to get a cup of coffee.

The following monitored conversation, which might be entitled, "What Makes Lawmakers Behave This Way?" is then alleged to have taken place, though it is unsupported by any other evidence.

Mr. Doakes—(to waitress)—Before placing my point of order, I demand to see a menu, which we shall call Exhibit A.

(Waitress complies. He reads it line-by-line.)
Mr. Doakes—You hand me here with a card which you allege to be a menu. I find printed or typewritten hereon, in what appears to be a carbon copy, various and sundry items of food, to wit: Appetizers, soups, entrees, sandwiches, salads, desserts and beverages, with certain specified prices listed after each item.

But nowhere hereon does the word "Menu" appear. Are you prepared to testify under oath that this is, in fact, the menu of this establishment for this day, or a reasonable or exact facsimile thereof; and in whose files does the original of this document, Exhibit A, now repose; also if it is marked in any way shape or form "Confidential" or "restricted"?

Waitress—(politely)—You look tired. May I get you a cup of coffee? Or would you like something else?

Mr. Doakes—Do not put words into my mouth, madam. I will come to the point at the end of my allotted ten minutes. For the moment, may I please call to your attention the fact that this card, which you have delivered to me this date, in response to my oral request, and which you infer, though you have not yet so testified, is indeed your actual, full and complete menu, lists on the last line certain beverages, to wit:

"Tea, coffee, milk." This card does not say whether these alleged beverages are served separately or in conjunction, and if the latter, in what proportion.

Waitress—Look, I got other—
Mr. Doakes—(interrupting)—I am not here to inquire about your "other" as you call them. Give me your full attention please. Do not divert me and do not try to evade the question.

Assuming for the moment that I did come into this alleged establishment for the sole and express purpose of ordering coffee, how and in what form would it be delivered to me, if I merely ordered what you have listed on this aforementioned card, which you say is your menu, as coffee?

Would it be served in a glass or a cup, or in what the French call a "demitasse" or—and this is the real point of my question—would it be served from a samovar, which is a Russian invention and therefore of a subversive nature, which would bear further investigation? Answer me yes or no, so that we can save time and get on with these historic proceedings.

Waitress—(A smile of comprehension breaking over her face as a great light dawns)—I've got you now. I was watching it myself on TV last night. (She turns mock serious)—Sir, I must inform you that the charges you have made against this establishment constitute blackmail and are intended only to delay me from my important work of serving the patrons.

I must also respectfully point out to the distinguished customer for whom I have the highest respect, that he is punch-drunk, stir-crazy and suffering from the hearing heebie jeebies. Furthermore, you do not lend dignity—(She breaks down and giggles). I know where you need a glass of hot black coffee which she brings to the table).

Mr. Doakes—Coffee?
Waitress—Why didn't you say so in the first place, and we could have settled this whole business in 20 seconds.

So could they (she adds with her sweetest professional smile)—if they had any sense.

The cross became the acknowledged symbol of Christianity at the time of the Roman Emperor Constantine.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, May 11—Senator McCarthy and his activities have had a very bad press in Great Britain, and the British people, dependent on low-grade journalism for information as the raw material for opinion, have a contemptuous opinion of the whole affair. That is more their hard luck than ours, but there is little we can do about it. The best consolation lies in the fact that it makes little difference to us what they think of us or our political folkways. However, it does make a difference what the Irish think of L'Affaire McCarthy because our blood ties are strong and warm by contrast with our diluted and embittered relations with the British, for whom many of us have lost even that forced and artificial crush of the two war periods.

As bearing on this subject of Irish public opinion on the McCarthy matter, I think the comments of the Bishop of Cork, the Most Rev. Dr. Lucey, deserve wider presentation than they received on April 3 when he landed here from a visit to the United States. Incidentally, but to the point, he brought back 30,000 pounds, which would be about $84,600, in subscriptions from American Irish Catholics for the Cork Diocesan Churches Fund. I had read nothing about this fund or the American donations in our papers, although that may have been my oversight. However, I am certain that the subject has received nothing like the volume of publicity that has been raised in the New York Times and the Herald Tribune for an American subscription to a kitty to repair Westminster Abbey and for other politico-religious projects beyond the seas.

The Cork Weekly Examiner reported that as to McCarthy, the bishop said: "Here in Ireland, we have been sadly misinformed. McCarthy's job was one that had to be done if people valued the free way of life. To represent him as has been done here as a disreputable and discredited witch-hunter is just gross misrepresentation."

I had not heard that the Irish press, like the British, had given McCarthy the pro-Communist smear, but that I infer from this comment.

In direct quotes, the Examiner said the bishop put it this way: "McCarthy's job is to ferret out Communists and would-be Communists—the people who were giving tongue in Moscow accents in the forties when the whole world was slipping into communism and who would again if the tide against Russia began to turn. It

President Might Appear Soon Before Congress With Request for Troops

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Geneva, May 12—Maybe before many weeks have elapsed President Eisenhower will be standing in the presence of both Houses of Congress with a request for a joint resolution authorizing the use of the armed forces of the United States to meet certain contingencies. These might arise suddenly at some future time in the western Pacific and could require immediate action then without the opportunity to consult Congress.

Such an unprecedented move has been under consideration in Washington as a precautionary measure, but the events that could shape a decision by the President to go before Congress fortunately have not occurred as yet. But they could conceivably happen as a consequence of a fateful turn in Communist policy, which now is suddenly stepping up military aid from Red China to the Communists in Indochina.

Flushed with their success at Dien Bien Phu, the Communists are beginning to act at Geneva as if they want to prolong the sessions indefinitely while their military effort in Indochina is accelerated.

It will be recalled that Secretary of State Dulles last Friday night made this significant statement during the course of his speech: "The Chinese Communists have been supplying the forces of Viet-Minh rebels with munitions, trucks, anti-aircraft guns, radar and technical equipment and technical advisers. They have, however, stopped short of open intervention. In this respect, they may have been deterred by the warnings which the United States has given that such intervention would lead to grave consequences which might not be confined to Indochina."

General Navarre, the French commander in Indochina, has been quoted as saying that a regiment of Red Chinese infantry has been fighting alongside the rebels in Indochina. This comes close to challenging the true meaning of the American pronouncement and, when matters get so close to the edge of war, it is natural for the Eisenhower administration to begin considering ways and means of meeting such a challenge.

It can readily be imagined what President Eisenhower would say to Congress. He would naturally remind the American people that the armistice was signed in Korea on the assumption that the aggression which had been repelled there would not now be renewed in another part of the Pacific area with munitions and troops released by the ending of the fighting in Korea.

Would the Democrats, whose administration ordered the defense against aggression in Korea in 1950, now back away from a move to make sure that the sacrifices which have been made in that country were not in vain? Would they venture to dissent from the judgment of a man whose military experience led him to conclude that American interests were in jeopardy and that the way to prevent a larger war was to take timely action now to halt the further spread of the Communist armies into the territory of the free world?

It is unlikely—once a decision to ask for authority to use our armed forces is presented to Congress—that such a request would be denied. Former President Truman was quoted the other day as saying that he didn't ask Congress when he ordered our forces into Korea, but Mr. Eisenhower gave the American people a pledge that he would not do so without the authority of a congressional resolution.

It is true that Mr. Truman considered he did not have to ask Congress for specific authority because America had signed a treaty undertaking to carry out the obligations of the United Nations charter. But there is no United Nations relationship to the Indochina dispute, unless it be in the fact that troops taken away from Korea now have been used for a further aggression against the territory of the French Union, which is a member of the United Nations.

The Paris government has been reluctant to let the matter go to the United Nations, not only because it would furnish a precedent for misadventures by-play on the Tunisian and Moroccan issues but because of the certainty that the question would merely drag on without a decision.

Circumstances have arisen, however, which might make it desirable for the question to go to the United Nations after all, and Mr. Eisenhower might find it desirable to ask for a joint resolution from Congress at the same time. For, if the Communist aggression in Indochina is to be halted, it apparently will not be done at the conference table here. The Soviet delegation shows no signs of moderating the demands of its satellite in Indochina and the danger that, counting on the recently exhibited weakness and dissension of the allies, further military moves will be made by Red China that would overnight alter the whole world situation.

Regrettably, military force is the only language the Communists have shown any signs of respecting. America has no desire to move alone in these troubled times, but until the Congress of the United States has acted, other nations will wonder if any such authority will ever be forthcoming. So, as a means of bringing about a strong united alliance in defense of Indochina and in order to strengthen America's hand in negotiations with its allies by making the words of warning already given really meaningful, President Eisenhower may find he has no other course but to lay all the facts before the two Houses and ask for the necessary authority to act—in cooperation, of course, with our allies. The odds are nearer than most people think.

New York, who hates McCarthy and "McCarthyism."

On March 21, Mrs. Schiff wrote that McCarthy was "the shame of Wisconsin" and pounced upon an expression used by the principal speaker at a St. Patrick's Day party in Chicago where Joe was guest of honor. The speaker said McCarthy was a typical American of Irish ancestry and Mrs. Schiff said the party saddened her because it supported the belief "held by most non-Catholics that McCarthyism is fully sanctioned by the church and those of its older adherents who are of Irish background. I think I understand why the old-line Irish Catholics fail to realize the menace of McCarthyism. Their fear of communism is so great that their intelligence is paralyzed."

All this may not promote "understanding," but at least it will clarify the issues of an important misunderstanding. (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Probation—in Writing

Muskegon, Mich. (AP)—A 25-year-old foundry worker was placed on four years probation on a felonious assault charge. When he was brought before Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers to sign the probation stipulation, he said "I can't judge. I always wanted to learn to read and write, but I never had a chance." The judge ordered the papers read to him and read and wrote, and assigned a probation officer to help him. "Thank you, judge," he said.

"LEANING TOWER OF PISA"

The leaning tower of Pisa, Italy (built in 1174) was never meant to lean. It was built as a bell tower, but the base of the building was too small. The tower was most useful to the scientist Galileo who spent his time dropping balls from the top to prove that they would reach the ground at the same time regardless of their differences in weight.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Joe: What's a matter?
Bill: Nuts, everything's a mess. The refrigerator is full.
Joe: How about taxes?

Bill: Nix, we pay them to support us, don't we? The guys in Government got to eat. They can't eat the Constitution.

Joe: Yeh! But the boss says taxes have to come down.

Bill: Didn't Harry Hopkins say, "the people are too damn dumb to understand?"

Joe: Sure he did, and he meant the boss, didn't he?

Bill: O.K. Hopkins was a pal of the working man, so why squawk?

Joe: You are just damn dumb. You are agin' the boss, ain't you? Some one has been fillin' you full of beans.

Bill: Sez you!

Joe: Yes, sez me. Some day you will fall out of bed, bump some sense into your head, and give the boss more production for wages paid. Get me?

Bill: Where do you get this hot stuff?

Joe: Well, not from the Bolshevik Red book. I been readin' about inventors and all these guys who thought up the automobile, radio, telephone and such, and the guys who put them together and made them run. I don't think it's brainy to tax them to death. Where are they goin' to get the dough to build factories for our kids to work in some day?

Bill: I never thought of that.

How TCP unlocks the Captive Power in your engine

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, overcomes pre-ignition and spark plug misfiring caused by the steady accumulation of lead and carbon deposits in the combustion chamber.

You'll get up to 15% more power before you've finished your second tankful.

Did you know there's up to 15% more power in your engine that you're not getting?

Think of it—all this power held captive—needlessly!

It's like this:

Every mile you drive puts more lead and carbon deposits in your engine. In the combustion chamber — on the tips of your spark plugs.

In the combustion chamber these deposits glow "red hot," especially when you step on the gas or climb a hill. This "sets off" the fuel charge before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you—not for you!

On the spark plugs these same deposits cause short circuits. "Missing" follows—especially when your engine is "under load."

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP additive changes all that—before you've used even two tankfuls!

What happens is this:

Shell Premium with TCP stops that wasteful pre-ignition by "fire-proofing" the deposits. Power works for you! And, because TCP additive makes the deposits non-conductors of electricity, your plugs fire on time!

The net to you is more power—up to 15% more! Power that is waiting to be used—not wasted! And you get up to 2½ times longer spark plug life!

Shell Premium with TCP additive goes to work unlocking that captive power with the very first gallon. By the time you've finished your second tankful you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up.

There's nothing like Shell Premium with TCP—it's a Shell discovery and the only place you can get it is at Shell dealers.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Clock Accuracy

Use of the adjustable length pendulum in the latter part of the 17th century made possible clocks of accuracy. Later, it was discovered that gravitational pull was not constant on the earth's surface and pendulum clocks were found to run slower at the earth's poles.

When today's hand was played, South bid five clubs as a sacrifice. He thought his opponents could make four hearts, and he expected to be defeated at five clubs.

Both opinions happened to be wrong. West would have been defeated at four hearts, but South made five clubs. South was afraid that his club suit would provide only one defensive trick, and he therefore preferred to risk a small loss rather than allow the opponents to score a vulnerable game.

West opened the four of hearts, East put up the ace, and South ruffed. Declarer next led a low diamond towards dummy's jack, and West hopped up immediately with the queen.

West switched immediately to spades, leading low to East's ace. East returned the jack of spades and South won with the king.

South now drew trumps in two rounds, and discovered that he could make the contract if he could set up the diamonds with just one ruff. He would then be able to discard a losing spade on one of his good diamonds, and dummy would still have a trump to ruff out South's own losing spade.

With this thought in mind, South next laid down the ace of diamonds. When the ten of diamonds dropped from the East hand, South had to decide who held the king of diamonds.

The play had already indicated that East had started with the ace-queen of hearts. The play of the ace at the first trick denied the king; and if West had held the king-queen, he would have led the king to begin with instead of a low heart.

It was apparent also, from the play of the spades, that West's best spade was the queen. Was it likely that West would have bid freely twice if he held only the king of hearts and two side queens?

South decided against this supposition. He expected West to hold the king of diamonds as well.

After taking the ace of diamonds, therefore, South led the nine of diamonds through West. West played his low diamond, hoping that South would guess wrong, but South had already made up his mind. He discarded the last spade from the dummy on his nine of diamonds.

When this held, the rest was easy. South could ruff a diamond in dummy, return by ruffing a heart, and run his remaining diamond. Dummy's last trump would then take care of South's last low spade.

Authentic Shrubbery

San Diego, Calif. (AP) A sharp-eyed cafe cashier noted that a $20 bill had "White House" on the back, while all the others she checked had "The White House." Police discovered similar "White House" bills here and in nearby National City and Escondido. They thought the shrubbery looked suspicious, too. But the U.S. Secret Service advised that the "the" and shrubbery changes were on bills turned out after 1934.

Japanese Beetle Quarantine Rules

In a seasonal notice issued today, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reminded all shippers of the year-around Japanese beetle quarantine regulations, and urged all who plan to ship or carry plants outside the regulated area, to make advance arrangements for certification.

The year-around Japanese beetle quarantine regulations apply to all shipments of soil and plants subject to grub infestation from the District of Columbia and all or parts of 15 eastern states to nonregulated destinations.

Quarantine regulations, designed to retard the spread of the beetle to uninfested sections, require that only certified soil and plants may be moved from the regulated areas. Safe, effective low cost methods of quarantine compliance acceptable to all states have been developed by the Department's regulatory and research workers in cooperation with states and industry.

Certification service is by a force of State-Federal district inspectors located according to needs, and no fee is charged for the certification. Plant quarantine inspectors at postal and common carrier terminals, and at some highway truck weighing stations check shipments for quarantine compliance. Advance arrangements for certification may be made with the local inspector, whose names and address may be obtained at postoffices and other common carrier agencies, or from the county agricultural agent.

This 30-year-old cooperative Federal-State quarantine program now applies to the District of Columbia, all of Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island; and to parts of Maine, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia—about 5 per cent of the United States area.

Most regulated shipments are by commercial growers or dealers—2,000 in 1953—but many specialists and hobbyists interchange plants on a country-wide basis. Some of these, such as growers of African violets, exhibit plants at area and National shows.

Advices Switch to Milk

Albany, May 12 (AP) — Gov. Dewey today offered his answer to soaring coffee prices: "Switch to milk." It is "healthier, cheaper and more plentiful" than coffee, the governor said in a statement. And more milk drinking would dry up the dairy industry's surplus, he added. Dewey—a dairy farmer himself—said New York state's cows had run up a surplus totaling 165 million quarts by last March and could be expected to add to the over-supply this month and next. The extra milk would vanish if everyone would gulp down a glass a day, he declared.

BOOK REVIEW

To further increase interest in the Kingston Library the following review by Mrs. G. Cramer Dodge is published.

BLESS THIS HOUSE

By NORAH LOFTS

This is a story about a beautiful, stately Tudor mansion in England; of how it came to be built and of the many lives that it touched in the long period between the time when it was built in 1577, during the reign of Elizabeth, 1st, down to the beginning of the reign of Elizabeth, 2nd.

The story of how a house of such beauty and grace came to be built upon the site of a ruined castle in South Suffolk is told by young Jon Borage, apprentice to his carpenter uncle, Francis Shepley, who, between them did most of the planning and building.

The inspiration to build the lovely brick mansion came from the one big moment in the life of Tom Rowledge, captain and owner of a small sailing vessel. When returning from a voyage, Tom happened to sight the Spanish ship, "Santa Teresa," loaded with an immense fortune in silver, stripped from the mines of the Inca capital of Cusco, and brought her into the port of Plymouth. By law and custom the greater part of such booty went to the Crown. However that left a large fortune to Tom, who was greatly flattered when the Queen sent for him to thank him for this haul from the hated Spaniards. The ruined castle with its surrounding acres at Merravay she gave to Tom and asked him what he planned to do with it. Impulsively Tom declared that he would build him a house there and that there he would live when he retired from the Sea. To his dismay, the Queen announced that she would visit him there, and that was why he was obliged to make his home fit for a Queen. He took his problem to his old school friend, Jon Borage, and so the plans were made.

Just before the house was completed, Jon learned that Elizabeth Rawley, the girl whom he loved, had been promised in marriage to Tom by her father, Heartsick in the knowledge that Elizabeth would occupy his dream house with another man, Jon, on the day that he and his uncle put the finishing touches on the house, snatched away the ladder which uncle Francis had used to mount to the roof top to place the bit of "Bless this House" fir tree upon the ridge pole, causing him to fall to his death. Soon thereafter Jon met Elizabeth in Layer Wood, coming home from her aunt's cottage, carrying a basket of valuable wedding gifts, and said "Goodbye" to her in a manner which she was never to forget. When Elizabeth got home with her clothes torn and muddled and her basket of gifts gone she told that a stranger had attacked her. Her father went to the woods and retrieved the gifts but overlooked one item which would have interested him very much, but which instead lay hidden for nearly 300 years.

So Tom Rowledge married Elizabeth and took her to live at beautiful Merravay. The Queen visited them, slept in "The Queen's Chamber" and moreover knighted Tom.

After Sir Thomas and Dame Elizabeth, three generations of Rowledges lived at Merravay. Then through indifference and political troubles, the property all but disintegrated and was sold for a very small sum to Phyl Wymark, a tavern keeper with an unsavory reputation, who came to live at Merravay with her bastard son, John, and who, with unbelievably hard work plus the discovery of a fortune in French brandy in the cellars, was able not only to restore the house but to buy back many acres of the original estate.

The Wymark dynasty was a stormy one, during which the house was very nearly ruined by John's wife who planned to completely re-model it but was stopped by a conscientious architect who refused to have anything to do with such desecration. Then came the murder of John's only son, followed by occupancy of the house by John's fanatically penniless old aunt and the governess in almost complete seclusion.

From the Wymarks, Merravay passed to one who they called "The Nabob"—an Englishman who had made an immense fortune in India. Because of a faithless wife, this Mr. Sandell hated all women and so made life miserable for his daughter, Olivia, while he spoiled his son. After the son inherited Merravay, he gave it loving care and acquired a reputation for eccentricity because of his humane treatment of his tenants and servants. He even allowed poaching in Layer Wood.

His heir, Alan Booth-Sandell, was quite different. Poachers and other trespassers were punished severely and Layer Wood was closed to the public. It was the kindness of uncle Alan's niece to one poacher, penned up in a small room at Merravay, that brought about the discovery of that thing which Elizabeth Rawley's father had overlooked nearly 300 years ago and which gave the key to the strange behavior of Jon Borage.

Most of those who lived at Merravay loved and admired it, but one who liked it least inherited by the strange will of her uncle Alan. This Catharine Booth-Sandell sold it to the first bidder. After that Merravay was sold several times. The next to last owner tried in various ways to make it a paying proposition for her young son and her war-shocked husband. She received unexpected help from a hungry vagrant, whom she fed and who turned out to be a Polish nobleman, ruined in World War II and who could and did do practically everything in house and garden with amazing skill. She built up a flourishing business with paying guests, which was brought to a sudden standstill by Merravay's reputation as a haunted house, dug up by a journalist guest along with the ghost of long-dead Lady Alice Rowledge, found guilty of witchcraft and condemned to be burned at the stake.

And then at long last the history of Merravay comes full circle when an American descendant of Thomas Rowledge visits England, is shown Merravay and is completely enchanted with it. To his great joy he learns that it is for sale and although at the time he is ignorant of the fact that it was built for his own ancestor, he promptly buys it. Having the means and the time to do it, he plunges into an orgy of restoration and re-decoration against his mother's coming over for the coronation of Elizabeth II. He soon meets a neighbor, young Phillis Wymark, who loves Merravay as he does, and so the stage is set for a happy ending.

From the author's clear descriptions, the reader can almost see the beauty of this part of the English countryside. Take this, for instance, "... One of those rare lovely autumn days, it began with a mist like the bloom of a grape and opened out to a noon of marigold yellow and closed with an evening of hyacinth blue, full of the scent of apples and burning leaves."

navy project engineer associated with the plant, spoke at the dinner, describing the operation of the plant in the manufacture of aircraft landing gear and hydraulic equipment.

One of Leading Firms

They pointed out that Electrol was one of the country's five major manufacturers of landing gears and had the only commercially available laboratory for "drop-testing" of landing gears on the east coast. This drop-testing simulates actual conditions experienced in landing a plane.

Tens of thousands of valves, cylinders, etc., have been made for the army and navy, they said. After World War 2 the company converted to the building of hydraulic equipment for light planes, entering the landing gear business at that time.

It was explained that Electrol actually does three kinds of landing gear work—development of specific hydraulic units to solve specialized types of problems; production of commercial standardized items and the manufacture of complete hydraulic units to custom specifications.

On Bipartisan Basis

Washington, May 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that insofar as possible foreign affairs are being handled on a bipartisan basis. The President also told a news conference he can discern no differences of loyalty and patriotism among people on the basis of their party affiliation.

President Deplores

day, did not mention McCarthy by name.

The President also discussed these other matters: Bi-partisan foreign policy—Eisenhower recalled that in the past he has ridiculed the idea that he would go along with charges by some Republicans that the Democratic party is the party of traitors.

He made that remark in response to a request for comment on former president Truman's statement that achievement of a true bi-partisan foreign policy is impossible unless the President first disavows those who call the Democrats traitors. Truman had applied the statement to a series of speeches in which McCarthy had called the Roosevelt and Truman administrations "20 years of treason."

Won't Answer Anyone

He first said, in replying to the request for comment on what Truman said, that he was not going to answer anyone who found it proper to criticize his actions. The President then went on, however, to say that he feels he has made it clear that he does not endorse charges of treason from within the Republican ranks.

Eisenhower also said that so far as possible he always has striven to keep foreign policy on a bipartisan basis.

Security and loyalty investigations—Eisenhower said he is confident that in the long run the Defense Department and the armed services themselves are fully capable of conducting any necessary investigations regarding loyalty and security.

Those remarks were in response to a question whether he agreed with Secretary of Defense Wilson, who said last night the army and the Defense Department generally are entirely capable of handling such investigations.

Eisenhower said that on the basis of his personal experience in the army, he always found the situation most heart warming from the standpoint of dedication and loyalty.

He added he feels there is ample authority—and certainly ample will—in the services to handle that matter there.

There is an old saying, the President said, that what is not inspected deteriorates. For that reason, he said, he believes it is necessary to exercise constant vigilance. Then he added he believes that in the long run the armed services are entirely capable of dealing with the situation.

Commerce Name

completely at the next meeting of the Business Methods Committee.

The appointment of a Chamber industrial procurement committee was also approved with John H. Haulenbeck as chairman.

J. Ellis Briggs, chairman of a special office improvement committee, reported progress and said that the planned and authorized improvements in the office would be completed before the June meeting. The next regular board of directors meeting will be held on June 8.

25 Persons Hurt

Weehawken, N. J., May 12 (AP)—Two public service buses en route from New York collided today on a westbound ramp leading from the Lincoln Tunnel, injuring 25 persons. New Jersey-bound traffic from the tunnel was delayed for about an hour while the injured were removed to hospitals and the wreckage cleared.

Gratitude in Stripes

Prescott, Ariz. (AP) — Even a skunk can be grateful for a helping hand. When Margie Williams investigated strange noises behind her house, she found a skunk with its head caught in a jar. The skunk was trying to shatter its glass mask against a rock wall. Margie called the skunk like she would a kitten. It came to her and she broke the jar with a hammer. The skunk took off without leaving its calling card.

A Dog's Life

New York (AP) — A dog who sings on Broadway can become a star. "Ted (Sport) Morgan," an airedale, who performed opposite Phil Silvers in the hit musical "Top Banana," got $300 a week for his stint. His plight came to light in trial of an agent's reach of contract suit. The spotlight was too much, Sport began to miss cues, shake his head, bark when he should have been quiet, is trainer, Nathan Wollman, testified. "He shivered as he waited to go on. He was neurotic — just like a person," Wollman said. An understudy took his place.

Cramer Asks Artists For Help on Chapel

Woodstock, May 11—In connection with the establishment of a permanent St. Gregory's Episcopal Church in Woodstock a statement by Konrad Cramer is an example of the spirit being shown by many Woodstock artists: "This community, this group of artists, this circle of friendship of kindred spirits has been alive for more than 45 years. The town has been the container of many individuals who have made their mark in the field of painting, sculpture, writing, music, science and the various crafts.

"All these magnificent efforts have been mirrored only in the individual artist. They have never been reflected and crystallized in one joint effort of the artistic community.

"St. Gregory's Episcopal Church is planning to leave its corner and build a larger house of worship on land donated by Mrs. Frederick L. Milne. It is Mrs. Milne's idea that the building and furnishings of a small church would be an ideal project to be carried out by a group of Woodstock artists.

"As is so often the case, an architect calls in a few artists to furnish the decorations, then ornamentation as an after-thought—and usually the result looks like an after-thought.

Artists to Cooperate
"In the case of the Woodstock Episcopal Church building, it is planned to have a group of artists and craftsmen cooperate in the development of the project from the very beginning, to plan and execute all the different phases of the project jointly.

"Each participating artist will be asked to contribute within his particular field—the workers in clay, stone and metal, the designers, the needle workers, the weavers; all will find a chance to make this project a reality and to have it become a document of what Woodstock can create . . ."

Woman Cleared Of Assault Charge

Dismissal of the charge of assault second degree against Mrs. Shirley Mower of 52 Elmendorf street recently was granted by a county grand jury.

The grand jury refused to indict Mrs. Mower on the charge, preferred by her husband, Robert Mower, Cedar Grove, who said that she had hit him in the face with a beer glass at a Kingston tavern early last month. He claimed that 33 stitches were needed to close the wounds in his face.

Front Wheel Brakes Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel brake to ensure smooth, controlled stops without "grabbing." The "other two" in the lowest-price field have only one.	2	1	1
Seat Springs Plymouth uses coil seat springs since they give longer-lasting support. The other two cars have a zigzag platform type. Also, Plymouth's front seat "springs-on-springs" design adds more comfort.	2	1	1
Piston Rings Plymouth engineers use four rings on each piston, resulting in decreased carbon deposit; more consistent power output. Top ring is chrome plated to give greater oil economy, allow faster "break-in" driving.	4	3	3
Body Mounts Plymouth's thick live-rubber body mounts prevent metal-to-metal contact and protect body from shock and vibration. Just look at the difference between Plymouth's mounts and the thin type used by the "other two!"	2	1	1
Micronic Oil Filter This unit, standard on most Plymouth models, keeps abrasive dirt out of the engine, thus reducing wear and achieving greater oil economy. This feature is available at extra cost on the other two low-price cars.	1	1	1

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Outlawing Is Asked

Washington, May 12 (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) today urged Congress to outlaw wiretapping "as an intolerable violation of civil liberties." John J. Gunther, ADA's legislative representative, said in testimony prepared for a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing that Congress should write legislation to make it clear wiretapping is illegal. ADA is an organization which describes itself as generally upholding the principles of the "New Deal" and "Fair Deal."

Above and Beyond the Call of Larceny

Shortly before lunch yesterday, Major Timothy Morgan walked into my office exuding an aura of good will and bourbon. He was wearing a blue yachting jacket and a gold-embroidered captain's hat.

"Why the nautical getup?" I asked. "Are you contemplating a bit of piracy on the high seas?"

"It so happens," said the old carny hustler, "that I'm thinking of buying a small cabin cruiser—say eighty feet."

"What will you use for money?" I said.

"Money!" said Morgan patronizingly. "He took a monogrammed silver flask from his pocket and upended it. Then he daintily dabbed at his lips with a lace handkerchief two foot square."

"Message received," I said. "When you drink your own firewater, it can only mean you've made a killing and are prepared to give me the details for the usual twenty simoleons."

"This fiscal year," said the self-commissioned major, "I'm using twenties to light my panettas. May I suggest, my sneering friend, that you step to the window and look down at the curb."

I looked, and parked in front of my theatre was the longest, reddest, chromiest automobile I had ever seen.

"I'll give you three guesses and a hint," said Morgan. "I was recently involved in a mail-order enterprise."

"That shouldn't be too hard," I said. "You advertised a beautiful steel engraving of George Washington for two dollars and ninety-eight cents, and then mailed each customer a two-cent stamp."

"Guess again," said the major. "Even in Stiff Ankle, Montana, the citizens are on to that oldie."

"Then it must have been the Japanese beetle exterminator," I said. "You charged five dollars and mailed the customer two blocks of wood with instructions to place the beetle on block 'A' and hit it over the head with block 'B'."

"Wrong again," said Morgan. "The enterprise I referred to was entirely legitimate."

"Legitimate?" I said. "Then I give up."

"I'll tell it in sequence," said the old confidence man. "Some months back, while in New Mexico, I organized an oil-prospecting company. It consisted, as usual, of a desk, a chair and your humble servant. Then I advertised in various gazettes and journals that I would accept a few investors as associates. Each investment, however, would be limited to five thousand dollars, and in the unlikely event that no oil was discovered on the property, each investor would get his money back, a hundred cents on the dollar, in ten years."

"Well, sir, as you may have heard, oil is a powerful persuader these days, and so is a bona fide guarantee against loss. In two months, my company's treasury had expanded from zero to four hundred thousand dollars."

"Every penny of which you absconded with," I said.

"Wrong again," said Morgan. "Although I made one hundred thousand dollars on the transaction, I kept complete faith with the investors. To begin with, I actually spent four weeks digging for oil. Well, perhaps 'digging' is not the precise word, but I did inspect a certain parking lot very thoroughly, and wherever the earth was soft enough, I prodded it with a penknife and then examined the blade meticulously for signs of oil. Unfortunately, as it turned out, these explorations failed to uncover a drop of the momentous fluid."

"At the end of the second month, a Post Office official paid me a visit and charged me with using the mails to defraud. Imagine his chargin when I proved that I had honored each and every one of my obligations."

"I fail to see how you could do that," I said, "and still show a profit of one hundred thousand dollars."

"The profit," said the Major, "came from a system which I admit was not original with me, but was nonetheless effective. When my explorations petered out, I bought a five thousand dollar E-bond for each investor who had put up five thousand dollars. This bond, as you know, sells for three thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars, and when it matures ten years later, is redeemable for five thousand dollars. Thus, the bonds cost me three hundred thousand dollars, and the one hundred thousand dollars I pocketed was only fair recompense for the month I spent on hands and knees with my penknife."

"My congratulations on a swindle in the grand manner," I said.

"That is not the opinion of the United States Government," said the Major. "In a ceremony recently held in Santa Fe, a Treasury representative awarded me a handsome silver letter opener for my patriotic services in stimulating the sale of government bonds to the public."

Buffalo Watches Opener

Buffalo, May 12 (AP)—Buffalo business and shipping interests will watch the start of scheduled trans-Atlantic freighter service this week for a hint of what effect the St. Lawrence Seaway will have on commerce in this area. Ships of the Swedish American Line plan to call at Buffalo every two weeks until November, providing direct connection with more than half a dozen European ports. The Great Lakes now are accessible to ocean freighters drawing 14 feet or less through the St. Lawrence canal system. The seaway will enable much larger vessels to come in.

Hiring Agreement Reached

Boston, May 12 (AP)—The Pullman Co., a nationwide sleeping car service, may in the future hire Negro conductors and white men as porters, under an agreement with the Massachusetts Commission against Discrimination. Commissioner Elwood McKenney said last night the conciliation agreement stemmed from a complaint by a Pullman Negro worker that the company had failed to promote him to a job previously held only by white persons. McKenney said the agreement "may change the 90-year-old policies of the Pullman Co."

THIRTEEN

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time, I am asked about the doings of the ferryboat Brinckerhoff. If they will look in the New York Herald Tribune of Sunday, May 2, 1954, they will see on Page 8 of Section 3, that the famous local ferryboat, again makes headlines and even has its picture in the press. It is on the same page as the Rod and Gun column of Woodstock author, Edmund Gilligan. It seems that the future of the Brinckerhoff, as a permanent marine museum piece at the Marine Historical Association of Mystic, Conn., is assured. No doubt, many readers remember back in 1949 when it left these shores for its final resting place at Mystic Seaport, Conn. The craft was reported missing and the Coast Guard was unable to find it as it had taken refuge at a remote breakwater near New Haven to escape the perils of a New London fog.

At the time, the museum accepted the ferryboat on condition that funds be supplied to keep it in shape for exhibition as it is of the old walking-beam construction built back in 1899 and the identical counterpart of the early type of ferries which plied the Hudson for almost a century. Contributions came in to the amount of $5,000 enough to beach her in a simulated ferry slip near Greenmanville avenue, Mystic, where visitors can look through a special plate glass window at the old time walking-beam engine, a type of marine construction now almost gone. Most local folks at some time or other rode on her, as she ran between Poughkeepsie and Highland until 1941, when the lowered tolls on the Mid-Hudson Bridge forced the company to close after continuous operation since 1798.

It is said the Brinckerhoff was built at Newburgh for the Poughkeepsie and Highland Ferry Co. in 1899. In 1943, the ferryboat was purchased by the Bridgeport Common Council for $10,500 to provide transportation to Pleasure Beach Park. It is said back in July 1952 that it would take $4,000 to $5,000 to put her in shape for display purposes.

One other ferry to leave this section around that time was the Kingston owned by the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Co. It was sold to Harris county, state of Texas. At the time it was to proceed under its own power to its destination where it was to operate on the Houston Ship Canal serving a large ship building area. At the time, ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff was suspended due to lack of business. It was said one reason was the bridges above and below Kingston on the Hudson, also the gas rationing during the war cut the vehicle traffic so that it did not

On Guard for You Is Theme of National Hospital Week

Kingston Hospital joins the observance of National Hospital Day today, by issuing an invitation to the public to become better acquainted with the institution and the services offered there. Visitors during National Hospital Week now in progress, will find the staff of doctors and nurses aided by office workers and volunteers of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

pay to run the ferry.

Going back to some of the old ferries which ran between Rhinecliff and Kingston there was the old Ferry Rhine around 1815 when steam power was introduced into the ferries. At the time it ran between Columbus Point (now called Kingston Point) and Rhinecliff. Then came the Lark and later the Transport. At one time business was so good that two ferries were needed, especially during the holiday summer season, when the ferryboat Kingston was used. We of course remember the ferries always running from Ferry street in our time. Perhaps some folks remember Captain Wells who was the first man to com-pertinent information. Top right, Miss Iola Baldo, student nurse, obtains medication from the drug room as ordered by a physician.

Lower left, in a course designed to help patients treat themselves at home, Miss Braymer, under the guidance of Leah D. Schairer, instructor, administers an insulin injection into a "dummy" diabetic patient while other students, Helen Sickler, Elsie Trips and Janice Howard, look on.

Lower right, Miss Anita Potter, student nurse, prepares a luncheon for a diabetic patient in the diet kitchen, under the supervision of Miss Jean Harvey, dietitian. The student nurse program is directed by Miss Almeda Porter. (Freeman photos) mand the old Transport. He retired May 1, 1907 after spending 37 years in active service.

Frost Prediction Hits Mark Again For Local Prophet

About a month ago Tom Shultis of Bearsville predicted frost in May.

"Better take in your tulips," the prophet said.

Today the Bearsville sage can gloat a little with pardonable pride. Not only did the area get frost last week with a 20 degree temperature reported unofficially at Shady and 26 degrees at Bearsville—but two inches of soft wet snow blanketed budding violets at Haines Falls and Tannersville yesterday.

And talking about snows of yesterday, Shultis recalls that day—May 10—exactly nine years ago when he "hauled the biggest log of the winter" with horse and sled.

That same afternoon in 1945 the prophet "hoed potatoes" in his garden with vines a foot high. "That was some kind of freak," he commented today. "This is another!"

Buick now outsells all other cars in its price class and above

You've probably noticed it right in your own neighborhood.

Bright new Buicks appearing here, there, everywhere. And more and more of them in recent weeks.

Know what's happening?

Folks in growing numbers—(and maybe you'll be joining them soon!)—are finding Buick styling, performance and value far too wonderful to pass up.

So Buick is selling at a record pace—outselling all other cars in its price class and above.

Matter of fact, latest figures for the first quarter of 1954 show that, in total national volume, Buick is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

A look and a ride and a peek at the price tag will be all you'll need to know what's back of this best-selling success.

There's styling in Buick that's the greatest beauty advance in years—the very look of tomorrow—and with the spectacular panoramic windshield that's part and parcel of this dream-car look.

There's performance in Buick as never before—with record-high V8 power, with the sensationally smooth whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflo,* with the buoyant ride of all-coil-springing, with a new precision of control and handling.

And there's value in Buick that's hard to match—with prices starting near the "low-price three"—prices that buy more Buick beauty and power and thrill and sheer automobile than smart money ever bought before.

How about you?

Are you ready, willing and waiting to be shown that this best seller called Buick is the buy of the year for you, too? Drop in this week, or give us a call, and we'll arrange a demonstration.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 12 (AP)—The stock market turned higher today after a hesitant start.

On the heels of yesterday's decline, the market this morning started off mixed. It soon turned ahead, however, and by early afternoon the list showed gains running to between 1 and 2 points at the best. Losses usually were fractional.

Trading picked up pace in the morning when prices began to improve, and it hit a pace better than yesterday's 1,770,000 shares. Most major divisions joined in the rise including the rails, steels, motors, coppers, oils, chemicals, aircrafts, and the utilities. None showed pronounced backwardness.

Among higher stocks were Atlantic Coast Line, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Radio Corp., Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, International Paper, International Business Machines, Pullman, and Texas Co.

Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb of 188 Fair street was reelected speaker of the House of Delegates during the annual meeting today of the Medical Society of the State of New York in New York city.

During its convention, the medical group gave a pat on the back to the sponsor of a resolution that could curtail prepaid medical care plans and clinics operated by groups of doctors.

In addition to the reelection of Dr. Holcomb, the House of Delegates named Dr. Renate J. Azzari of the Bronx as president-elect. After one year he will succeed Dr. Dan Mellon of Rome, who was installed as president today. Dr. Azzari, 62, is a member of the New York City's Board of Higher Education and has been a Medical Society councillor since 1949.

Won't Accept Draft
New York, May 12 (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner said last night that "under no circumstances" would he permit himself to be drafted as the Democratic nominee for governor next fall. It was the strongest language the mayor had yet used on the possibility of his candidacy. He made the statement during a quiz program featuring city officials at a fund-raising dinner of the Citizens Union, a civic group.

Woman Is Stabbed

New York, May 12 (AP)—A wounded woman fled to the street last night without stopping to put on any clothes. In close pursuit came her knife-wielding former husband, also completely nude. The chase through Greenwich Village landed the man in jail on a felonious assault charge. He was booked as Gerard Marziale, 42. The woman, Mrs. Evelyn Cunningham Marziale, 30, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital in critical condition from a stab wound in the abdomen.

To Seek Action

Washington, May 12 (AP)—The House has voted unanimously to seek contempt action against a Cornell University professor who refused to name his former associates in a Communist study group at Harvard. Marcus Singler of Ithaca, N. Y., was among nine persons whom the House yesterday asked the U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia to prosecute. Conviction could result in a maximum penalty of a year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Transportation Carries On

Pittsburgh, May 12 (AP)—Trains, autos, independent bus lines and taxis appeared to have this steel city's transportation situation well in hand today despite a strike of 2,700 trolley and bus operators. City officials report traffic is moving at a near normal pace as workers and shoppers utilize these other means of transportation to the fullest extent.

Little Hope Held

translate the first reporters notes for the appeal record.

Chessman's chances of avoiding San Quentin's green-painted gas chamber seemed slim, however. Before talking with Rice, the governor said he had no intention of setting himself up as a "super supreme court" to judge issues already decided.

Was Turned Down

Chessman, who acted as his own attorney until he hired Rice with a $1,000 advance on his book, already had fought his case up to the United States Supreme Court, and was turned down all the way. Before Knight became governor, Gov. Earl Warren, now chief justice of the United States, had refused clemency.

Pleas to spare Chessman grew this month with publication of his book. First Attorney Niven Busch asked clemency, saying Chessman has become "in a sense" a useful citizen by writing the story of his life of crime and imprisonment.

Then Dr. Negley K. Teeters, a Temple University criminologist, suggested Chessman be spared to "serve as a Guinea pig for science."

May Ask More Money

Washington, May 12 (AP)—Defense officials were reported today to have told the Senate Appropriations Committee a request for more defense money would "probably" be forthcoming soon as a result of the critical situation in Indochina. Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.), a committee member, told newsmen that Assistant Defense Secretary John Hannah testified in answer to questions that the Eisenhower administration would seek to boost the 23 billion dollar defense budget for the year starting July 1.

Reynolds Gives Testimony

New York, May 12 (AP)—Author Quentin Reynolds testified today he was bombed and shot at by Germans on many occasions during World War 2. Numerous articles telling of dangerous wartime experiences also were introduced as part of Reynolds' answer to a contention that he was a "yellow coward" during the war. Reynolds is seeking $50,000 damages in a libel suit against columnist Westbrook Pegler.

Stores of Cement Are Dwindling as Strike Progresses

Local stock piles of cement used for concrete on the New York Thruway bridge work are practically non-existent. Unless there is a change in the cement industry strike in the Hudson valley within the next day or two concrete from the two local concerns supplying the mix will cease to go to the jobs.

Both at Island Dock, Inc., and Miron Rapid Mix Concrete it was stated today the supply of cement used for road work was practically exhausted and unless some unforeseen supply comes in, concrete would cease to go to the Corbetti job in the next couple of days.

Under an agreement the two local concerns have been supplying concrete for the bridge work on the Corbetti contract.

It is also understood that laying of concrete roadway on the Aborio contract south of Kingston will not proceed because of inability to get cement. Concrete for the pavement is mixed on the job.

Three Arrested

Stamford, Conn., May 12 (P)—Three Massachusetts "teen-aged" youths who allegedly stole a 1954 automobile from the show room of a Morristown, N. J., automobile agency last night, were arrested here by state police early today. Officer James Costello who made the arrests identified the youths as Karl Ross, 18, East Weymouth, Mass., Richard Jenner, 17, Quincy, Mass., and Elwood Pirrell, 18, of Weymouth, Mass. They told police that they went to New Jersey in search of work. They had been living at the Market Street Mission in Morristown, they said. Costello said the youths admitted stealing the car from the Long Pontiac Sales Co., in Morristown, N. J., where Ross had been employed as a porter. According to the officer, the trio said that it took them 90 minutes to remove the paper wrapping from the car.

Cadillac

The "Stranger" Everyone Knows!

The big car eases out from the boulevard and comes to a soft, silent stop. A man steps out from behind the wheel and heads for his destination.

The license plate reveals him to be a person from another state—a "stranger," so to speak.

But the golden crest on the hood of his motor car tells everyone something about him. For it is the famous crest of Cadillac—and no man is wholly a stranger, wherever he be, when he drives this distinguished car.

Any owner can tell you, out of his own personal experience, that a Cadillac is a virtual "letter of introduction" for the man who sits at its wheel.

He becomes, in a sense, the "stranger" everyone knows—a member of the most distinguished motoring fraternity in all the world.

This priceless aspect of Cadillac ownership is but one of the many rewards which come to the owners of Cadillac cars.

In fact, it might even be considered an extra dividend—for it comes in addition to the car's great and distinguishing beauty . . . its brilliant and inspiring performance . . . its magnificent comfort and luxury . . . and its remarkable economy of operation.

As a matter of fact, it would be a formidable task to recite even a basic portion of Cadillac's cardinal virtues for 1954—for the car is superlative in every respect and has been markedly advanced in every phase of appearance and operation.

Of course, it would take only an hour on the highway to understand what it all means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction—and that's why we suggest that you come in and see us—soon.

Why not make it today?

Paul King, Baritone, Star of The Telephone, To Sing in Concert

Paul King, bass baritone, will be guest soloist with the Treble Choraliers in a concert Thursday, in First Reformed Church, Catskill, at 8:30 p. m.

Mr. King's tours in concert, oratorio and opera have taken him throughout the east, south-west and south, and his hundreds of oratorio performances have placed him in great demand.

An important highlight in Paul King's career is his success in New York city and on tour in Gian Carlo Menotti's, "The Telephone," and "The Medium," in which he has over 300 performances as the lead in "The Telephone" and the role of Mr. Gobieneau in the second opera.

His Town Hall concert brought excellent reviews. In television, Mr. King appeared recently in "The Telephone" and has sung Germont in "Traviata."

Mr. King's accompanist is expected to be Samuel H. Quincy, who is summer organist at the chapel in Twilight Park.

The following program will be given at Catskill: Recitative and Aria from "Un Ballo in Maschera," Verdi; Now Phoebe Sinketh in the West, Arne; She Never Told Her Love, Haydn; Arm, Arm, Ye Brave, from Judas Macabaeus, Handel; There Is a Lady, Beery; Clorinda, Morgan; Land in Degradation, McGimsey; What Shall We Do with a Drunken Sailor, Guion; and I Heard a Forest Praying, Peter de Rose.

Away on vacation? Heck, no! You can find 94% of the people at home at any time during June, July and August—still shopping at a fast rate. Still reading newspapers. Still buying the things they read about!

Sales are as hot as the weather!

People spend more money on merchandise in June, July and August than in most other months—as the chart shows.

Are you taking advantage of this?

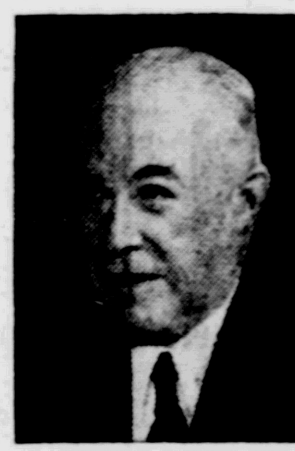

Business leaders are capitalizing on this!

Mr. Gimbel says: "We're going after summer busi-

And he adds that summer business is "the most neglected, the most under-promoted area in our whole merchandising system."

Are you planning special summer promotion?

Gun Theft Among
Three Solved With Questioning Boys

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons said today that the questioning of two boys yesterday has "cleared up" three recent thefts in the downtown area.

The boys are brothers, one 14 and the other 12 years old, they said. The older one admitted entering the Moe Solomon store on East Strand, from which about $50 worth of candy was reported missing and said he had taken a revolver from a truck while it was parked on the grounds of a Hasbrouck avenue gasoline station a few days ago.

The younger boy admitted entering the building of the Jay Steel Products, Inc., 37 Mill street, three times. Small amounts of money totaling about $20 were reported missing from there.

Taken From Mail Truck
The revolver was reported taken several days ago from the truck hired to haul mail. It had been left at the gas station for servicing. The boy sold the revolver for $1 to a man who brought it to police headquarters, the detectives said. The boys were held for children's court.

Police indicated that the stolen candy had been hidden and one of the boys was caught visiting the hiding place. The detectives also revealed that two cars were involved in a mixed up sequence of events after the report early Sunday that the Kingston Hudson building at 124 North Front street had been entered. An unknown amount of cash was reported taken. Recovery of the two cars was reported but the thefts are still under investigation.

IN NEW JOB—Meyer Kestnbaum, a Chicago, Ill., clothing company executive, is the new head of the federal commission studying state-federal relations. He succeeds Clarence Manion who resigned.

And when your physician prescribes correct footwear, we shall deem it a privilege to fulfill your needs. For our only consideration is fitting feet properly . . . correctly.

$92,500 in Fines

unions was voided because of strong-arm tactics by the old ILA, and a second vote had been set for May 26.

The strike, which hit the port during the uneasy period following the first election, brought a fine of $50,000 against the parent ILA and $5,000 each against seven of its locals.

The judge set a heavier penalty of $7,500 on an eighth local, No. 824, which ruled the uptown Hudson river docks of luxury passenger liners and had been dubbed the "pistol local" because of its reputation for violence.

A six-month jail sentence was ordered for Harold Bowers, secretary of Local 824. Three-month terms were given to William P. Lynch, secretary-treasurer of Local 791, and William Ackalitis, secretary of Local 874.

Before the judge imposed the penalties, ILA attorneys asked him to be lenient. The union, they said, was in a "very precarious" financial position and any fines "would be taken out of the pockets of longshoremen."

The ILA has received money from John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers in its costly fight with the ILA-AFL.

The ILA specifically was found guilty of violating a March 4 court injunction against interfering with unloading of trucks driven by members of the ALF Teamsters Union, which had been backing the ILA-AFL.

The dispute with the Teamsters was sparked by dismissal of an AFL-ILA shop steward at Pier 32 on the Hudson river. Charging this resulted from ILA pressures, the Teamsters refused to deliver goods to ILA workers on that pier.

In turn, the ILA declared a boycott against Teamster-delivered cargo at all other piers. The ILA officially declared the strike illegal at first but later endorsed it.

In the December NLRB election the ILA polled the most votes but the count was close enough to be in doubt when the AFL challenged some 4,000 ballots.

When the strike began, the NLRB had not issued a final decision on the election. It later ordered a new election, and declared the ILA would be ruled off the ballot unless the strike was ended immediately. The ILA quickly complied.

will be in a state of alertness. The all clear "yellow" signal will then come.

So far as the public is concerned the test will then be over but key Civil Defense personnel will continue to operate in various capacities for a two day Civil Defense test. Key personnel will be put on a twenty-four hour alert test and there will be various problems worked out during June 14 and 15 by the organization. All command posts will be manned on a twenty-four hour basis to give a real working test of Civil Defense.

Mayor Stang on Monday evening spoke to the Civil Defense auxiliary police and between now and the date of the test in June other organizations will be "briefed" and placed on a duty footing.

Scheduled as the annual spring meeting of the association, the gathering was held in the living Luncheon prepared by Mrs. Katie Brown of the high school cafeteria staff was served by students of German taught by Miss Margaret M. Schuetz and Miss Ilse Selmer.

Supt. Arthur J. Laidlaw of Kingston schools welcomed the group, whom he had invited to hold the annual meeting in Kingston.

Two Clerks Are Killed

New York, May 12 (AP)—Two liquor store clerks were shot and killed last night in a holdup that netted the robber between $75 and $100. Forty detectives were assigned to track down the trigger-happy bandit. A telephone call, apparently from one of the fatally wounded clerks, brought police to the store in Harlem just in time to hear James Holloman, 36, gasp, "there's been a robbery." He then collapsed and a short time later died in Harlem Hospital. Lying dead on the floor when police arrived was George Tondow, 42, 124 1st Street, Clifton, N. J. Police said there was no sign of shots other than the two that killed Holloman and Tondow.

The homes of former Presidents Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield and Warren G. Harding are preserved in Ohio.

DUSO Baseball Title at Stake in Thursday's Kingston-NFA Game

Stadium Joust Sends Unbeaten Teams to Grips

Goldbacks Boast 8-Straight Record

The DUSO League baseball crown may be decided Thursday at municipal stadium when unbeaten Kingston High tangles with Newburgh Academy at 4 p. m.

Paced by a powerful staff, the Goldbacks have reeled off eight straight wins in DUSO and non-conference play. The emphasis has been on tight pitching and clutch victories.

Coach George Balanoff has two stellar performers in Bob Miller and Bill Short, a slick southpaw, who beat the Maroons last year. Rained out yesterday at Middletown and hampered by a late start, Coach Burke has a four-man squad rested and ready.

Bruce Bechtold and Frank Reis were both impressive in their seasonal debuts. Jack Houghtaling has been waiting around for a chance to break off some of his jughandle curves, while Bob Maines is also available.

Under normal rotation, Houghtaling would get the call but Burke has not yet decided on a starting pitcher.

Burkowski Returns
The Maroons appear to have as much batting power as the Goldbacks who count on Mickey Burkowski for the long ball. It was the Marvel who ruled Kingston last year at municipal stadium.

Given a good break in weather, the Maroons should attract the largest baseball attendance in several years.

Patty Wins Title But Loses Friend

Rome, May 12 (P)—World traveler Budge Patty headed for Switzerland on business today plus one tennis title but minus one friend.

Patty, who used to live in Los Angeles but now resides in Paris is burned up at Enrique Morea, the towering Argentine, whom he whipped in the final of the Italian International tournament yesterday, 11-9, 6-4, 6-4.

"I was so terribly mad at him that I couldn't lose," said Patty. "I played 18 games yesterday morning before reaching the final. Every game was hard, so I proposed to Morea that we make the final two sets out of three."

Morea refused and stalked angrily from the dressing room.

Greene GOP Hears H-Bomb on Way Out

Frederic Snyder, local news analyst, predicted that the hydrogen bomb is on its way to obsolescence and that both Russia and the U. S. are at work on a "space platform" from which nations can control the world, during his talk to about 100 members of the Greene County Republican Club Monday night.

Snyder also told his audience he fully expected transcontinental flights within the next 10 years by means of an underground vacuum tube. He went on to add that a New York-San Francisco trip would take one hour through this medium.

On the future of the H-bomb, the local speaker said that Nazi Germany, before its downfall in World War 2, had scientists at work on the same project of trying to control the world by means of a "space platform."

Newburgh Netmen Rout Kingston High, 5 to 0

Newburgh Academy's powerful tennis squad trounced Kingston, 5-0, yesterday at Hutton Park. But the final results are misleading as several matches were closer than the figures indicate.

Harold Kaplan defeated Jack Schoonmaker, 6-4, 6-2 in the No. 1 singles after Schoonmaker led 5-2 and 30-love in the first set.

Jack McDonough, the top NFA performer, polished off Marty Kantowitz with surprising ease, 6-1, 6-0 but Richard Smith gave Jack Miller a terrific tussle in the No. 3 singles before yielding 2-6, 5-7.

McDonough and Miller combined to take the No. 1 doubles from Smith and Kantowitz, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Tyler and Ochs completed the NFA sweep with a hard earned 6-3, 6-4 over Mark Silk and George Baschle.

Kingston resumes its schedule against Ellenville Thursday at Hutton Park.

Braves' Magic Still Working Against Bums at Ebbets Field

BY BEN PHILGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

If times get tough, Charlie Grimm may be able to sell his secrets on how to win at Ebbets Field.

The Brooklyn Dodger ball park, graveyard of many pennant hopes last season, proved surprisingly friendly territory to Grimm's 1953 Milwaukee Braves.

They won 6 of 11 games there. No other visiting team won more than three. The St. Louis Cardinals didn't win any.

Now the 1954 edition of the Milwaukee wonders are trying to do the job even better.

They invaded Brooklyn last night for the first time this season and walked off with a 2-0 triumph.

The pitching chores were handled superbly by Gene Conley, a king-sized rookie right-hander. In striking out seven while walking none the 6 foot 8 inch sidearm specialist pinned the first shutout on the Dodgers since June 11 last year when another rookie, Allan Worthington of the New York Giants, turned the trick.

Giants Nip Cincinnati
Elsewhere in the National League the New York Giants defeated Cincinnati 5-4 and Philadelphia edged Chicago 8-7 in 10 innings. The St. Louis-Pirates game at Pittsburgh was rained out.

In the American League Joe Coleman of Baltimore allowed his former Philadelphia teammates the only two hits, both singles, as the Orioles beat the Athletics 2-0. New York defeated Cleveland 5-3. Chicago shaded Boston 2-1 and Washington beat Detroit 5-3.

The Giants beat Fred Baczewski for the first time in his career. The Cincinnati left-hander had whipped the New Yorkers five times running until Monte Irvin slammed a 400-foot triple in the eighth inning with Al Dark on first base. Ted Kuszewski for Cincinnati and Whitte Lockman and Willie Mays for New York hit home runs.

After falling two runs behind in the eighth because of poor defensive play the Phils rallied to tie the Cubs in the eighth and won in the 10th as Del Ennis singled home Richie Ashburn. Ennis earlier blasted a bases-loaded double, good for three runs, and Ashburn drove in one in the eighth with a triple.

Berra's Double Wins
A double by Yogi Berra with two on and two out drove home the runs the Yankees needed to beat Cleveland for the first time this season. The Indians had won three in a row from the world champions. Allie Reynolds pitched out of a jam in the eighth when the Indians tied the score and loaded the bases with none out only to hit into three easy force plays.

Bob Keegan won his fourth game against a single loss and scored the winning run for the White Sox against Boston. He tripled in the seventh and rode home on Nellie Fox's single.

Detroit used four hits, including a homer by Frank House, to score three runs in the first four innings against the Senators but Bob Porterfield slammed the door as he finished with 5 1/3 hitless innings. Porterfield homered in the ninth after Washington had scored the tie-breaking run in the eighth.

Yesterday's Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Batting—Bobby Avila, Cleveland Indians, had a perfect 4-for-4 night against the New York Yankees and took over the American League batting lead with an average of .375.

Pitching—Joe Coleman, Baltimore Orioles, allowed only two hits, both singles, in beating Philadelphia 2-0.

Three Willies are among the leading jockeys this year—Willie Harnatz, Willie Shoemaker and Willie Hartack.

MVP for Golfdom Suggested to PGA By Middlecoff

New York, May 12 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff had a new prescription for golf today—he suggested the fairway boys pick a "most valuable player" the way it is done in baseball.

"We have come to regard our National Open tournament as a symbol for picking our best players," the tall, Memphis dentist said. "But it's a shame for us to pick a champion on four rounds of golf."

"We have also attached a lot of importance in the past to the leading money winners which has been a good gauge. But now sponsors are turning up with $50,000 bonanzas such as the Tam O' Shanter. That throws the whole thing out of whack..."

Middlecoff, 1949 National Open champion, is in town for the annual round-robin tournament opening tomorrow at the Meadowbrook Golf Club at suburban Westbury, N. Y.

Al Hoey was elected president of the Central Recreation League for the 1954-55 season Tuesday night during the loop's annual post-season banquet at the Capri in Port Ewen.

Hoey succeeds Jack Haber who piloted the circuit this year. Also elected were Joe Lohmaier, vice-president and Bill Pieper, secretary. Eddie Heins declined the nomination to run for another term as secretary.

Last night's banquet honored members of the Chez Emile club. Ray Houghtaling, Bill Johnson, Jack Houghtaling, Fred Schryver and Carl Bowser, winners of the league, Emile Jordan, sponsor, also was feted.

Among the speakers were President Haber, Secretary Heins, William R. Murray, president of the Kingston Bowling Association; George Robinson, KBA vice-president and Irvin Thomas, KBA secretary, who awarded the high single belt buckle prize to Earl Sleight for his 277 game.

Three officials of the state education department, a co-sponsor of the conference, will appear on the program.

Cobb Is Sentenced

Cleveland, May 12 (AP)—Emmett Cobb, a self-styled "prophet", convicted of running a call girl racket which included a young heiress and a housewife, has been sentenced to 14-18 years in prison. The defendant was a bearded, 19-year-old heiress from suburban Shaker Heights and a 23-year-old housewife from Cleveland's west side.

ing his trial, he claimed he could get no justice in a "grossly prejudiced Christian court." A jury took 2½ hours yesterday to find Cobb guilty of charges of rape and pandering. His call girls, the prosecution said, included a 19-year-old heiress from suburban Shaker Heights and a 23-year-old housewife from Cleveland's west side.

Jewett Hunter Is Fatally Wounded

Russell George Peck, 69, a farmer in Jewett, Greene county, was found dead of a shotgun wound in his chest Monday, about three hours after he had set out to hunt woodchucks, state police said.

Dr. Edwin G. Mulbury, coroner, of Windham, said death was accidental. Authorities said Peck's body was found about 500 feet from his home by Mrs. Vera Kloss, a neighbor. The body was reported on one side of a wire fence and the gun with one shell discharged was found on the other side, police said.

Is Called 'Unprofessional'

New York, May 12 (AP)—Issuance by a lawyer of any press release or public statement that might "interfere with a fair trial" or administration of justice was condemned as "unprofessional" last night at the annual meeting of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York. The meeting adopted a resolution calling on the American Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association to include this rule in the Canons of Professional Ethics.

APPOINTED—Lawrence Q. Mumford, 50, Cleveland Public Library director, was chosen by President Eisenhower as Librarian of Congress, succeeding Luther H. Evans.

Adams Reports

signment trying to halt the Monmouth inquiry.

2. McCarthy once told him G. David Schine was "not much use" to the McCarthy subcommittee and McCarthy hoped Schine would be drafted. Adams said as he recalled this conversation with McCarthy took place about Oct. 14 during a subway ride in New York city. He said Mrs. McCarthy also was present.

Adams quoted McCarthy as saying, when telling him Schine was "not much use" to the subcommittee, that Schine was interested "only in being photographed."

Adams further quoted the senator as saying he hoped nothing would happen with the process of the draft and that Schine would be drafted. That happened in November.

But, Adams said, McCarthy urged him not to tell Cohn. The McCarthy camp, denying any improper pressures for Schine, has countercharged that the army tried to use Schine as "a hostage" to halt the Monmouth inquiry by McCarthy's subcommittee.

Became Angry
Adams testified that Cohn became "extremely" angry when he told Cohn in a conversation in the Senate office building about Nov. 1 that the Selective Service Act was a keystone of national defense and the national interest required that it be administered impartially and "with great care."

Schine was drafted Nov. 3. The army contends that long before that Sen. McCarthy and his aides had sought to get a direct commission as an officer for Schine.

Adams said generally speaking, the conversation with Cohn on Nov. 1 illustrated the trend under which "this subject" (Schine) caused relations between the army and the McCarthy subcommittee to deteriorate steadily.

After Schine's induction into the army, Adams said, arrangements were made for the recruit to have two weeks of temporary duty in New York to engage in subcommittee work but that McCarthy asked that this be canceled.

McCarthy felt the temporary duty in New York might be considered as a privilege to be pounced upon by the senator's critics, Adams said.

Government officials told newsmen the case is possibly the largest income tax evasion case in history.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By HERMAN J. EATON

QUESTION: Like many other small business men, I divide my insurance business among several insurance agents. I've been told several times I would save money and get better protection by giving all the business to one agent. Is this true?

ANSWER: Yes, you should let one handle all your insurance business or at least let the one agent coordinate your entire program. If that agent is really good, you'll save many dollars per year.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
